

Globasa Lessons for Beginners

Lesson 1

Review Alphabet and Pronunciation before starting the following lessons.

Word List

- salom - hi, hello
- weda - (good)bye
- xanti - peace (hello, bye)
- bwaw - dog(s)
- myaw - cat(s)
- piu - bird(s)
- uma - horse(s)
- mahi - fish(es)
- doste - friend(s)
- nini - boy(s)/girl(s), kid(s)
- sodar - brother(s)/sister(s), sibling(s)
- matre - mother(s)
- mama - mom(s)
- patre - father(s)
- papa - dad(s)

Notes

Gender

In Globasa, only a handful of words, such as matre and patre, indicate gender. Otherwise, words denoting people are gender-neutral. In a subsequent lesson, you will learn how to distinguish between males and females using gender adjectives as prefixes.

No Plural Nouns

Globasa does not distinguish between singular and plural nouns. In a subsequent lesson, you will learn how to indicate singularity or plurality when necessary.

- doste - friend or friends

xanti

The word xanti means peace, but it can also be used to say hello or bye.

Example Sentences

Salom, doste!

Hello, friend(s)!

Weda, uma!

Bye, horse(s)!

Reading and Listening Practice

Salom, bwaw! Weda, papa! Xanti, uma! Weda, sodar! Xanti, doste! Salom, nini!
Weda, matre! Salom, mahi! Xanti, piu! Weda, myaw!

Lesson Activity

Create your own sentences using the examples above as sentence patterns and the reading practice as a model.

Lesson 2

Word List

- mi - I
- bete - daughter(s)/son(s)
- somno - sleep(s)
- doxo - read(s)
- danse - dance(s)
- lala - sing(s)
- yuxi - play(s)
- ergo - work(s)
- pawbu - run(s)
- anda - walk(s)
- fley - fly/flies
- suyon - swim(s)

Notes

No articles

Globasa has neither definite nor indefinite articles (the words a and the in English). In a subsequent lesson, you will learn how to emphasize definiteness when necessary.

- bwaw - dog(s), a dog or the dog(s)

No conjugation

Globasa has no verb conjugation, meaning that verbs don't change according to the subject (or doer) of the sentence. For example, in English, the verb work can be conjugated as 'I work hard' and 'she works hard.' In Globasa, on the other hand, we only use ergo.

- ergo - work or works

Dictionary Verb Form

The dictionary form of the verb is equivalent to the English simple present or the present progressive.

- fley - fly, flies, am flying, is flying or are flying

Example Sentences

Mahi suyon.

The fish swim(s). or The fish is/are swimming.

Mi doxo.

I read. or I am reading.

Reading and Listening Practice

Salom, doste! Mi ergo. Myaw somno. Bete doxo. Piu fley. Bwaw yuxi. Mahi suyon. Mama lala. Patre danse. Uma pawbu. Sodar anda. Xanti, nini.

Lesson Activity

Create your own sentences using the examples from this lesson and Lesson 1 as sentence patterns, as well as the reading practice in this lesson as a model.

Lesson 3

Word List

- yu - you
- fe lutuf - please
- xukra - thank; thanks, thank you
- yam - eat
- roti - bread
- risi - rice
- supa - soup
- salada - salad
- jubin - cheese
- pingo - apple
- banana - banana
- patato - potato
- kitab - book
- hare - have, has

Notes

fe lutuf

The word lutuf means kindness and the word fe is a preposition with a general, indefinite meaning. The expression fe lutuf roughly means in kindness or kindly.

SVO Word Order

The typical word order in Globasa is subject-verb-object, the same as in English.

Bwaw yam jubin.

The dog eats cheese.

In the sentence above, bwaw is the subject (entity who is eating), yam is the verb (the action that the subject carries out) and jubin is the object (entity or object that gets eaten).

Example Sentences

Roti, fe lutuf. Xukra.

Bread, please. Thank you.

Mi yam patato.

I eat a potato.

Reading and Listening Practice

Xanti, sodar! Supa, fe lutuf. Xukra. Weda, sodar!

Salom, doste! Mi hare myaw. Yu hare bwaw. Nini hare piu. Papa hare mahi. Myaw yam jubin. Mahi yam salada. Mi yam risi. Piu yam pingo. Yu yam banana. Nini yam roti. Papa yam patato. Bwaw yam kitabu. Xanti, doste!

Lesson Activity

Create your own sentences using the examples in this and previous lessons as sentence patterns.

Lesson 4

Word List

- kam - yes/no question particle
- si - yes
- no - no, not, do not, don't, does not, doesn't
- aham - understand
- suki - like
- lubi - love
- vole - want
- na - to (infinitive verb marker)
- oko - see, look, watch
- ore - hear, listen to
- glu - drink
- filme - film, movie
- musika - music
- sui - water
- kafe - coffee
- cay - tea
- jusu - juice

Notes

Yes/No Questions

Statements are turned into a yes/no questions simply by adding kam at the beginning of the sentence. The following example sentences show a statement followed by its counterpart yes/no question.

Nini oko filme.

The boy is watching a movie.

Kam nini oko filme?

Is the boy watching a movie?

Negation

The word no precedes the word being negated, such as the verb.

Myaw no glu cay.

Cats don't drink tea.

Infinitive Verbs

The infinitive verb form is marked using the particle na followed by the verb. It is always used between any two verbs.

Kam yu suki na oko filme?

Do you like to watch movies?

Invariable Pronoun Form

Pronouns retain the same form regardless of the function they play in a sentence. In English, I/me, she/her, and he/him are pronouns that change form. In Globasa, mi means both I or me.

Mi lubi yu.

I love you.

Yu lubi mi.

You love me.

Example Sentences

Kam patre suki na yam salada?

Does the father like to eat salad?

Si, patre suki na yam salada.

Yes, the father likes to eat salad.

No, patre no suki na yam salada.

No, the father doesn't like to eat salad.

Reading and Listening Practice

Xanti, doste. Kafe, fe lutuf! Xukra, doste. Mi suki kafe!

Salom, mama. Cay, fe lutuf! Xukra, mama! Mi suki cay!

Papa: Salom, bete! Kam yu glu sui?

Bete: Xanti, papa. No, mi no suki sui. Mi suki na glu jusu.

Papa: Kam yu yam roti?

Bete: Si, mi suki na yam roti.

Omar: Xanti, sodar! Kam yu ore musika?

Marta: Salom, sodar. No, mi no ore musika, mi oko filme. Kam yu doxo kitabu?

Omar: No, mi no doxo kitabu. Mi ore musika.

Doste: Kam yu aham lala?

Doste: Si, mi aham lala: Uma fley, kam no?

Mama: Kam yu lubi mi?

Papa: Si, mi lubi yu.

Lesson Activity

Create your own dialogues using the example sentences in this and previous lessons.

Lesson 5

Word List

- ji - and
- sen - be (am, is, are)
- te - he, she (animate: any life form or personified object)
- hin - this, these
 - hinte - this, this one (animate)
- den - that, those
 - dente - that, that one (animate)
- ixu - adult
 - femixu - woman
 - manixu - man
- bon - good
- day - big, large
- bala - strong
- meli - beautiful, pretty
- velosi - fast, quick
- neo - new
- juni - young
- hox - happy, glad
- safe - clean
- lungo - long
- gao - tall, high

Notes

Adjectives

Adjectives precede the nouns they modify.

- safe myaw - clean cat
- neo kitabu - new book
- lungo filme - long film

The verb sen

The verb sen links the subject to adjective phrases or noun phrases.

With adjective phrases:

Kitabu sen neo.

The book is new.

Filme sen lungo.

The film is long.

Uma sen day ji bala.

The horse is big and strong.

With noun phrases:

Te sen mahi.

It's a fish.

Te sen bon patre.

He's a good father.

hin/den

The demonstratives hin and den must always be followed by a noun or pronoun. They never stand alone in noun phrases.

Den piu sen day.

That bird is big.

The pronoun te, which is attached to the demonstratives hin and den, may replace an animate noun: hinte/dente.

Dente sen day.

That (one) is big.

Since Globasa doesn't have articles (a, the), the words hin and den may be used to express definiteness when necessary.

Den piu sen day.

That bird is big. or The bird is big.

Male and Female

The adjectives fem (female) and man (male) may be used as quasi-prefixes to distinguish gender. Normally gender is not indicated, but if you need to distinguish gender here are some examples:

- femnini - girl
mannini - boy
- fembete - daughter
manbete - son
- femuma - mare (female horse)
manuma - stallion (male horse)
- femdoste - female friend
mandoste - male friend

Noun/Verbs

Globasa has many noun/verbs, words that can function as either noun or verb. The verbs introduced in lessons 2, 3 and 4 are actually noun/verbs.

- yam - meal or eat
- oko - eye or see
- ore - ear or hear
- lala - song or sing
- fley - flight or fly

Example Sentences

Juni femixu somno.

The young woman is sleeping.

Sodar ore bon musika.

The sibling listens to good music.

Hin lala sen meli.

This song is beautiful.

Reading and Listening Practice

Mi hare neo kitabu. Hin kitabu sen bon. Mi suki na doxo kitabu. Bwaw sen day ji bala. Hin bwaw hare bete. Juni bwaw yuxi ji pawbu. Te no sen safe. Mama no sen hox. Bete glu sui. Te somno. Mama sen hox.

Yu hare lungo kitabu. Den kitabu no sen bon. Yu no suki na doxo den kitabu. Gao manixu hare uma. Uma sen veloci. Manixu hare femdoste. Doste sen juni ji meli. Manixu suki na oko filme. Femixu no suki filme. Femixu suki na lala ji danse. Manixu no suki musika. Femixu no lubi te.

Lesson Activity

Write a story using the example sentences in this and previous lessons.

Lesson 6

Word List

- mas - but
- to - it (inanimate: objects only)
 - hinto - this (one/thing)
 - dento - that (one/thing)
- le - past tense particle (-ed)
- xa - future tense particle (will/shall)
- in - in, inside of
- ex - out, outside of
- ogar - home
- multi - many (a lot of), much (a lot)
- xosu - few, a little (bit)
- xwexi - learn
- dom - place
- kamer - room
- koki - cook
 - kokikamer - kitchen
- banyo - bath, bathe
 - banyokamer - bathroom
- parke - park
- hotel - hotel
- banko - bank
- eskol - school
- restoran - restaurant

Notes

Noun Phrases

Noun phrases must always end in a noun or pronoun. This is the reason why hin and den can never stand alone. Likewise, when multi and xosu are used in noun phrases they must always be followed by either a noun or a pronoun. Although te and to are singular pronouns they may be used with words denoting plurality, such as multi and xosu.

Yu hare multi bete mas mi hare xosu te.

You have many children but I have few (of them).

Yu le yam xosu jubin ji mi le yam multi to.

You ate a little (bit of) cheese and I ate a lot (of it).

Adverbs

Adverbs have the same form as adjectives. They typically precede the verbs they modify but may optionally follow the verb.

Uma veloci pawbu. or Uma pawbu veloci.

The horse runs fast.

If the sentence has a direct object, the adverb may optionally follow it.

Matre multi lubi bete. or Matre lubi bete multi.

The mother loves the child a lot.

Be careful not to place the adverb between the verb and the direct object. A modifying word in that spot would function as an adjective modifying the direct object.

Matre lubi multi bete.

The mother loves many children.

Word Formation with Noun-Noun Compounds

In Globasa, two nouns may be freely joined to produce a compound word.

Fill in the blanks below:

library:

dining room:

swimming pool:

bedroom:

Past and Future Tenses

The particle le marks the past tense and the particle xa marks the future tense. Verb particles are used at the beginning of a verb phrase, preceding any adverbs, as well as no. The word order for verb phrases is as follows: verb particle -- negation -- adverb -- verb.

Femixu le hox ore musika.

The woman happily listened to the music.

Manixu le no hox ore musika.

The man didn't happily listen to the music.

Myaw xa veloci glu sui.

The cat will quickly drink the water.

Bwaw xa no veloci glu sui.

The dog will not drink the water quickly.

Prepositional Phrases

Globasa uses prepositions to form prepositional phrases.

- in banyokamer - in the bathroom

Prepositional phrases link to the subject using the verb sen, seen in Lesson 5.

Myaw sen in banyokamer.

The cat is in the bathroom.

Prepositional phrases also modify noun phrases and verb phrases.

Prepositional phrases immediately follow the noun phrases they modify.

Myaw in banyokamer somno.

The cat in the bathroom is sleeping.

Prepositional phrases that modify verbs enjoy relative free word order and may be moved anywhere in the sentence. When moved before the verb, commas are used as seen below.

Myaw yam in kokikamer piu.

Myaw yam piu in kokikamer.

Myaw, in kokikamer, yam piu.

In kokikamer, myaw yam piu.

The cat eats the bird in the kitchen.

Example Sentences

Nini le no multi yam.

The kid didn't eat much.

Bwaw yuxi in parke.

The dog plays in the park.

Reading and Listening Practice

Patre ergo in neo banko. Matre ergo in day hotel. Bete xwexi in meli eskol.

Bete ji bwaw le yuxi ex ogar. Bwaw no sen safe. Patre xa banyo bwaw in banyokamer. Bwaw xa sen safe. Matre koki risi ji patato in kokikamer. Risi ji patato xa sen bon. Matre xa yam multi risi ji xosu patato. Bete xa yam xosu risi ji multi patato. Patre xa yam multi risi ji patato.

Lesson Activity

Create your own sentences using the examples above, and examples from previous lessons, as sentence patterns. Tell a story.

Lesson 7

Word List

- imi - we
- uyu - you (plural)
- ete - they (animate)
- oto - they (inanimate)
- ke - which, what
 - kete - who, which one
 - keto - what, which one
- loga - say, tell
- cudu - get, take, obtain, acquire
- idi - go
- ata - come
- cel - to (movement, destination, goal)
 - cel na - in order to
 - cel in - into
 - cel ex - out from, out of
- yen - being (human or animal); gal, guy (informally)
- alim - teach, teaching
 - alimyen - teacher
- medis - medicine (practice), medicate
 - medisyen - physician
 - medisdom - clinic
- polisi - police
 - polisiyen - police officer

Notes

ke vs kete/keto

The word ke, like hin and den, must always be followed by either a noun or pronoun.

- ke medisyen?
which physician?
kete?
who? or which one?
- ke kitabu?
what book? or which book?
keto?
what? or which one?

hinete/hinoto, denete/denoto, keete/keoto

The words ete and oto, the plural counterparts of te and to, may also be attached to hin, den and ke in order to form the words hinete/hinoto (these; these ones), denete/denoto (those; those ones), keete (who; which people; which ones), keoto (what; what things; which ones). However, since te and to may be used with words denoting plurality, -te/-to may also be used when number is unknown, such as when asking who and what. For this reason, keete and keoto are rarely used.

Questions with ke

Questions with ke have the same word order as their counterpart declarative sentences.

Medisyen yam keto?

"The doctor eats what?"

What does the doctor eat?

Yu xa doxo ke kitabu?

"You will read which/what book?"

What/which book will you read?

cel

The word cel is used only for denoting movement, destination, target or purpose, never as the recipient (commonly known as the indirect object) marker. In a subsequent lesson, you will learn the word that marks the recipient.

The phrase cel na means in order to. Much like in English, since na (seen in Lesson 4) marks verb phrases, it may be used alone to introduce purpose.

Polisiyen le idi cel kitabudom (cel) na doxo kitabu.

The police officer went to the library (in order) to read a book.

The word cel may be paired with other prepositions: cel in (into) and cel ex (out from, out of).

Polisiyen le pawbu cel in kitabudom.

The police officer ran into the library.

Compound Words with yen

The word yen typically refers to people, although it may technically denote any life form. It is often used to create compounds with nouns, verbs and adjectives.

With noun/verb words:

- alim (teach) - alimyen (teacher)
- polisi (police) - polisiyen (police officer)

With adj/adv words:

- juni (young) - juniyen (a young being/person, a youth)
- bala (strong) - balayen (a strong being/person)

The words man and woman can also be expressed as manyen and femyen. Technically, manyen refers to any male (whether boy or man) and femyen refers to any female (whether girl or woman). However, since we would typically use nini for an underage human, manyen and femyen may be used not only when we're unsure of the person's age, but when we're referring specifically to an adult or a teenager (a young man/lady). By extension, yen may be used by itself to mean gal or guy.

Example Sentences

Den femyen sen medisyen.

That lady is a doctor.

Alimyen idi cel eskol.

The teacher goes to the school.

Polisiyen hare keto?

What does the police officer have?

Reading and Listening Practice

Multi ixu idi cel day eskol. Multi te ata cel na xwexi na bon koki. Eskol hare juni alimyen.

Xwexiyen loga, "Imi xa koki keto?"

Alimyen loga, "Uyu xa koki neo yam."

Xwexiyen loga, "Ke yam? Yam hare keto?"

Alimyen loga, "Patato, bwaw ji uma."

Gao xwexiyen sen polisiyen. Te no sen hox: "Keto?! Dento no sen yam! Bwaw ji uma sen meli! Ete sen doste!"

Alimyen loga, "Fe lutuf, multi te suki na yam xosu bwaw ji uma. Kam yu aham?"

Polisiyen loga, "No! Ete no sen yam! Yu xa idi cel polisidom."

Lesson Activity

Create your own sentences using the examples above, and examples from previous lessons, as sentence patterns. Tell a story.

Lesson 8

Word List

- de - of (belonging to)
- loka - location
 - keloka - where
 - hinloka - here
 - denloka - there
- per - on (the surface of)
- bax - under, below, beneath
- ton - (together) with
- fe - at (neutral position)
- fe inya - inside
- fe exya - outside
- mesa - table
- bistar - bed
- kursi - chair
- drevo - tree
- jabal - mountain
- bahari - sea
- nahir - river

Notes

Expressing Possession

Nouns express possession using the preposition de (of). Note that de only denotes possession, while in English the word of has many uses. In subsequent lessons, you will learn other words that translate as of in English.

- kitabu de nini
the kid's book

ton

The preposition ton only means together with. It is never used to express with in the sense of by means of or in the sense of having.

keloka, hinloka, denloka

The words keloka, hinloka and denloka also link to the subject using the verb sen.

Myaw sen keloka?

"The cat is where?"

Where is the cat?

Myaw sen denloka.

The cat is there.

Prepositional Phrases without Reference to Location

In order to indicate position without reference to specific location, prepositions are turned into nouns by adding the suffix -ya to form prepositional phrases with fe.

Myaw somno fe inya.

The cat is sleeping inside.

Fe inya, myaw somno.

Inside, the cat is sleeping.

fe

As seen in Lesson 3, the word fe is a preposition with a variety of uses. Note that when denoting location, Globasa typically translates at as in (in, at), not fe: in eskol (at school), in banko (at the bank), etc. However, in some cases, fe is used where at has a more neutral meaning: fe mesa (at the table). For the most part, fe is used in prepositional phrases that specify location by means of other words, such as fe inya (inside) and fe exya (outside). You will learn other such phrases in a subsequent lesson.

Example Sentences

Eskol sen keloka?

Where is the school?

Piu sen fe exya.

The bird is outside.

Bwaw de polisiyen sen day.

The police officer's dog is big.

Reading and Listening Practice

Manixu ergo in bahari. Te sen mahiyen. Te hare ogar ton femixu. Femixu hare juni bete. Hin ogar no sen day. Ete no suki to.

Ete sen in hin ogar. Manixu ji femixu sen fe mesa. Ete glu cay. Bete bon somno per bistar. Ete oko bete.

Femixu loga, "Mi vole neo ogar, har day somnokamer ji meli kokikamer."
Manixu loga, "Mi aham, mas ogar xa sen keloka?" Femixu loga, "Kam yu suki jabal? Dento sen bon cel neo ogar." Manixu loga, "Si, mi suki. Mas mi vole ergo." Femixu loga, "Jabal hare nahir. Mahi sen in nahir. Yu xa cudu multi mahi." Manixu loga, "Mas, kam jabal xa hare eskol?"

Bete ore ixu. Te le no somno!

Bete loga, "Mi no vole na idi cel eskol! Mi vole na yuxi per drevo, ex bahari ji ex eskol!"

Lesson Activity

Create your own sentences using the examples above, and examples from previous lessons, as sentence patterns. Tell a story.

Lesson 9

Word List

- -su - possessive suffix applied to pronouns
- se - reflexive pronoun
- max - more (followed by a noun/verb)
 - maxmo - more (followed by an adj/adv)
- min - less/fewer (followed by a noun/verb)
 - minmo - less (followed by an adj/adv)
- kom - than
- bur - bad
- lil - little, small
- colo - ugly
- hanman - slow
- lama - old (opposite of new)
- lao - old (opposite of young)
- hazuni - sad
- kotor - dirty
- kurto - short/brief (opposite of long)
- cote - short/low (opposite of tall/high)
- gami - spouse (husband/wife)

Notes

Comparison

Comparison of number, amount or degree of noun/verb words is expressed as follows:

- max... kom... - more... than...
- min... kom... - less/fewer... than...

Polisiyen hare max bete kom musikayen.

The police officer has more children than the musician.

Alimyen yam min roti kom medisyen.

The teacher eats less bread than the physician.

If max or min modify the verb, they may appear either before or after the verb.

Misu gami max doxo kom mi. or Misu gami doxo max kom mi.

My spouse reads more than I.

Comparative adjective/adverbs are expressed as follows.

- maxmo... kom... - more... than...
- minmo... kom... - less... than...

maxmo meli kom...

more beautiful than...

minmo kotor kom...

less dirty than...

Reflexive Pronoun se

The reflexive pronoun se is used as follows:

Manixu banyo se.

The man is bathing himself. or The man is taking a bath.

In Globasa, se may be used reflexively with any pronoun.

Kam yu lubi se. or Kam yu lubi yu?

Do you love yourself?

Possessive Adjectives

Globasa turns pronouns into possessive adjectives by adding the suffix -su.

- misu - my
- yusu - your
- tesu - her/his
- tosu - its

- sesu - her/his/its/their own
- imisu - our
- uyusu - your
- etesu - their
- otosu - their

Example Sentences

Bwaw min somno kom myaw.

The dog sleeps less than the cat.

Hin drevo sen maxmo lao kom den drevo.

This tree is older than that tree.

Misu doste suyon in bahari.

My friend swims in the sea.

Reading and Listening Practice

Ogar de polisiyen sen maxmo lama kom ogar de medisyen, mas ogar de medisyen sen colo, kotor ji lil.

Polisiyen loga, "Kam yusu gami sen maxmo lao kom misu gami?"

Medisyen loga, "No, misu gami sen minmo lao. Te sen juni."

Polisiyen loga, "Kam yusu gami sen maxmo cote kom misu gami?"

Medisyen loga, "No, misu gami sen minmo cote. Te sen gao."

Polisiyen loga, "Kam yusu gami max doxo kom misu gami?"

Medisyen loga, "No, misu gami no multi doxo. Te xosu doxo. Te no suki kitabu. Te suki filme ji musika."

Polisiyen loga, "Kam yusu gami maxmo bon danse kom misu gami?"

Medisyen loga, "No, misu gami bur danse. Yusu gami bon danse."

Lesson Activity

Create your own sentences using the examples above, and examples from previous lessons, as sentence patterns. Tell a story.

Lesson 10

Word List

- numer - number
 - kenumer (te/to) - how many (what number of)
- moy - every
 - moyte - everybody
 - moyto - everything
 - moyloka - everywhere
- nil - zero, no-
 - nilte - nobody
 - nilto - nothing
 - nilloka - nowhere
- un - one
- dua - two
- tiga - three
- care - four
- lima - five
- sis - six
- sabe - seven
- oco - eight
- nue - nine
- des - ten
- plu - multiple (any number more than one)

Notes

Word Order in Noun Phrases

As seen in previous lessons, word order in Globasa is rather strict. Word order in noun phrases is as follows:

determiners (hin/den/moy/nil) -- possessive adj (misu, etc.) -- number -- adjective -- (pro)noun

hin tesu care lama kitabu
"these her four old books"
these four old books of hers

Possessive Pronouns

Possessive pronouns are formed by adding (e)te or (o)to to possessive adjectives.

- misu te/to - mine
- yusu te/to - yours
- etc.

Other Noun Phrases Ending in (e)te and (o)to

As we've seen in previous lessons, noun phrases must always end in either a noun or a pronoun. We've already seen that determiners (hin, den, ke, moy, nil) cannot stand alone and must attach (e)te/(o)to when the noun is not expressed. Likewise, possessive pronouns (as seen above), as well as adjectives and numbers (including the word kenumer) in noun phrases must add (e)te/(o)to when the noun is not expressed.

Un manixu somno ji dua te yam.

One man is sleeping and two are eating.

lao ete ji juni ete

the old ones and the young ones

Mi hare multi kursi. Yu vole kenumer to?

I have a lot of chairs. How many do you want?

Expressing Singularity/Indefiniteness with un

The word un may be used to express singularity and indefiniteness when necessary.

- un kitabu - one book or a book

Expressing Plurality with plu

The word plu maybe used to express plurality when necessary.

- plu pingo - (multiple) apples

Example Sentences

Tiga meli piu lala.

Three beautiful birds are singing.

Den misu doste sen hox.

That friend of mine is happy.

Yu hare kenumer sodar?

"You have how many siblings?"

How many siblings do you have?

Moyte danse.

Everybody is dancing.

Reading and Listening Practice

Plu myaw sen in ergodom de sesu matre. Matre vole na ore moy sesu bete.

Matre loga, "Uyu le ergo fe keto?"

Myaw un loga, "Mi le polisi. Mi le anda ji oko moyloka."

Matre loga, "Dento sen day ergo! Yu xa hare lima mahi."

Myaw un loga, "Xukra!"

Matre loga, "Myaw dua, yusu ergo le sen keto?"

Myaw dua loga, "Mi le idi cel nahir cel na cudu neo yam. Mi le cudu des mahi tas imi."

Matre loga, "Yusu ergo sen bon. Yusu des mahi sen day. Mi sen hox."

Myaw dua loga, "Mi xa hare kenumer mahi?"

Matre loga, "Lima mahi."

Myaw dua loga, "Xukra. Mas mi le cudu max mahi kom lima te..."

Matre loga, "Lima te sen bon numer."

Myaw dua loga, "Bon..."

Matre loga, "Ji yu, myaw tiga?"

Myaw tiga loga, "Mi le..."

Myaw un loga, "Te le somno lungo! Te le no ergo!"

Matre loga, "Myaw tiga xa hare lima mahi."

Myaw un ji dua loga, "Keto? Kam no nilte? Myaw tiga le no ergo!"

Matre loga, "Moy myaw xa hare yam. Nilte yam nilto. Mas, myaw tiga xa koki ton mi!"

Lesson Activity

Create your own sentences using the examples above, and examples from previous lessons, as sentence patterns. Tell a story.

Lesson 11

Word List

- or - or
- ogar (in) - home, dwelling, place of residence; inhabit, dwell, reside (in), live (in)
- yon - with (using), by means of, by
- pala (yon/in) - talk, speak (in)
- dexa - country
- Engli - England
- Espani - Spain
- Nipon - Japan
- Franse - France
- Turki - Turkey
- Usa - United States of America
- Mexiko - Mexico
- Barati - India
- Cungwo - China
- Rusi - Russia
- Masri - Egypt
- Brazil - Brazil
- dolo - street, road
- basa - language
- -sa - (suffix) language
- -li - (suffix) of, relating to

Notes

Suffix -sa

Many languages are derived from words denoting countries by adding the suffix -sa (from basa - language).

Fill in the blanks below:

English: Englisa

Spanish:

Japanese:

French:

Turkish:

Russian:

The names of languages may also be used as verbs:

Mi Englisa ji Globasa.

I communicate (speak and understand and/or read and write) in English and Globasa.

pala (in/yon)

The word pala (speak) may be used either transitively, without a preposition, or intransitively (with either in or yon) as follows:

Mi pala (in/yon) Englisa ji Globasa.

I speak (in) English and Globasa.

ogar vs ogar in vs ogar fe

The word ogar (home) can be used as a verb meaning inhabit, dwell, reside or live (in/at).

It is used transitively, without a preposition, when the object of the verb refers to the dwelling or home.

Mi ogar lil ogar.

I live in a small home.

The preposition fe is used when referring to the dwelling's address.

Mi ogar fe Dolo Day Drevo.

I live on Big Tree Street.

The preposition in is used when referring to the dwelling's location (city, country, etc.), as well as alternatively when referring to the dwelling or the dwelling's address.

Mi ogar in lil ogar, in Dolo Day Drevo, in Nipon.

I live in a small home, on Big Tree Street, in Japan.

Suffix -li

One of the suffixes used in Globasa for deriving adjectives from nouns is -li. It roughly means of, or relating to.

Fill in the blanks below:

English tea: Englili cay

Spanish rice:

Japanese tree:

French bread:

Turkish coffee:

American movie:

Mexican music:

Nationalities with yen

As seen previously, the word yen is used for denoting people.

Fill in the blanks below:

an English person: Engliyen

a Spaniard:

a Japanese person:

a French person:

a Turk:

an American:

Colon Questions

Colon questions in Globasa are as follows.

Yu suki keto: kafe or cay?

"You like what: coffee or tea?"

Do you like coffee or tea?

Example Sentences

Yu ogar keloka?

Where do you live?

Yu pala (in/yon) ke basa?

What language(s) do you speak?

Yu pala keto: Fransesa or Turkisa?

Do you speak French or Turkish?

Mi pala Espanisa ji Globasa.

I speak Spanish and Globasa.

Reading and Listening Practice

Misu doste ogar in Rusi. Te pala Rusisa ji Fransesa. Tesu gami no pala Fransesa mas te vole na xwexi to. Ete vole na idi cel Franse ton sesu dua bete. Bete no vole na xwexi Fransesa. Ete vole na idi cel Nipon.

Lesson Activity

Create your own sentences using the examples above, and examples from previous lessons, as sentence patterns. Tell a story.

Lesson 12

Word List

- kwanti - quantity, amount
 - kekwanti (te/to) - how much, what quantity (of)
- bazar - market, bazaar
- glasu - glass, cup (for cold drinks)
- fenjan - cup (for hot drinks)
- milko - milk
- biru - beer
- vino - wine
- mumu - cattle (bull, cow)
- kuku - fowl (hen, rooster)
- swini - pig, swine
- ovo - egg
- pesa - money
- kari - buy
- dolar - dollar
- kima - cost
- kufi - enough, sufficient (followed by noun/verb)
 - kufimo - enough (preceded by adj/adv), sufficiently (followed by adj/adv)
- maso - meat

Notes

Compound Words with maso

The word maso is used in compounds to form words for the different kinds of meat. Alternatively, depending on the context, the single root word for the animal may be used, without the need to form a compound with maso.

Fill in the blanks below:

chicken:

beef:

pork:

fish (meat):

fenjan fe and glasu fe

The word fe can also mean of, as in what kind of. It can be used, for example, to refer to the contents of a container.

- fenjan fe cay
a cup of tea
- glasu fe sui
a glass of water

kufi vs kufimo

The word kufi only denotes number or quantity (sufficient number/quantity of). Kufimo, on the other hand, is used for modifying adjective/adverbs, such as in the phrase tall enough.

Example Sentences

Pingo kima kekwanti?

"The apples cost what-quantity?"

How much do the apples cost?

Ovo kima care dolar.

Eggs cost four dollars.

Misu mama no kari swinimaso.

My mom doesn't buy pork.

Kam yu suki Mexikoli bira?

Do you like Mexican beer?

Medisyen glu glasu fe vino.

The doctor is drinking a glass of wine.

Reading and Listening Practice

Mama ji papa le idi cel bazar. Ete le kari jubin, ovo, roti, risi, pingo, banana ji vino. Jubin le kima tiga dolar. Ovo le kima care dolar. Roti le kima lima dolar. Risi le kima dua dolar. Pingo le kima tiga dolar. Banana le kima dua dolar. Vino le kima des dolar.

Lesson Activity

Create your own sentences using the example above, and examples from previous lessons, as sentence patterns. Tell a story.

Lesson 13

Word List

- labas - clothes; wear
- kamisa - shirt
- pantalun - pants
- fustan - dress
- eskirti - skirt
- sapatu - shoe
- dukan - store, shop
- haja - need
- pul - full; -ful/-ous
- termo - heat
 - termopul - warm, hot
- bardi - cold (noun)
 - bardipul - cold (adjective)
- xohra - fame
 - xohrapul - famous
- humor - humor
 - humorpul - funny, humorous
- cinon - intelligence
 - cinonpul - intelligent, smart

Notes

Numbers

Fill in the blanks below:

11: des un

12:

13:

14:

15:

16:

17:

18:

19:

20: duades

30:

40:

50:

60:

70:

80:

90:

Compound words with pul

The word pul is used as quasi-suffix to derive adjectives from nouns. In compounds, it is a general descriptive suffix roughly equivalent to the suffixes -ful ("full of") and -ous ("having") in English. Strictly speaking, it means with enough or more than enough.

Fill in the blanks below:

grateful, thankful:

costly, expensive:

rich:

peaceful:

Compound Words with dukan

The word dukan is often used in compounds to derive words for the different types of stores.

Fill in the blanks below:

shoe store:

bookstore:

Example Sentences

Femixu labas meli fustan.

The woman wears a beautiful dress.

Mi vole na kari kamisa.

I want to buy a shirt.

Den sapatu sen kimapul.

Those shoes are expensive.

Lalayen sen xohrapul.

The singer is famous.

Reading and Listening Practice

Xohrapul lalayen labas meli kamisa mas colo pantalun. Tesu sapatu sen lil. Te haja na kari neo labas. Te xa idi cel dukan. Te xa kari kimapul pantalun ji maxmo day sapatu. Te hare multi pesa ji te xa kari max kamisa.

Lesson Activity

Create your own sentences using the example above, and examples from previous lessons, as sentence patterns. Tell a story.

Lesson 14

Word List

- kepul - like what, how (question word which asks to describe the object or action)
- maxim - (the) most
- minim - (the) least
- of - off (of), (out) of, from
- bimar - sick
- seha - healthy
- asan - easy
- katina - difficult
- muhim - important
- sahi - correct
- mal - wrong, incorrect
- insan - human (being), people
- fale - do, make
- abil - can, be able to
- musi - must

Notes

kepul

The question word kepul asks the listener/reader to describe the object or action. Like all question words, it is used in the same spot where the answer to the question would be.

Example 1:

Bwaw sen kepul?

How is the dog? or What is the dog like?

Although the question above is ambiguous, the context of the conversation will typically make the question clear.

Bwaw sen hox.

The dog is happy.

Example 2:

Yu hare kepul ergo?

What is the job that you have like? or What kind of job do you have?

Notice how convoluted the question in English is. In Globasa, the question is straight-forward because it works the same way as the statement. Notice how the answer (asan) below will fit in the exact same spot as kepul.

Mi hare asan ergo.

I have an easy job.

Example 3:

Kepul* uma abil na pawbu veloci?

What kind of horse can run fast?

Bala* uma abil na pawbu veloci.

A strong horse can run fast.

Superlative Adjectives

Superlative adjectives are expressed using maxim (most, -est) and minim (least). Superlative adjectives occurring within noun phrases must add (e)te or (o)to if the noun is not expressed in the phrase. Prepositional phrases with of (out of, from) or in may be used for more complete sentences.

Misu maxim juni sodar sen minim gao te of famil.

My youngest sibling is the least tall (one) of the family.

Maxim pesapul ete sen maxim lao ete.

The richest (ones) are the oldest (ones).

Example Sentences

Maria sen maxim juni te of misu bete.

Maria is the youngest of my children.

Piu sen kepul?

What is the bird like? or How is the bird?

Manixu vole kepul pantalun?

What kind of pants does the man want?

Reading and Listening Practice

Mi hare multi doste. Maxim gao te of misu doste veloci pawbu. Maxim bala te sen polisiyen. Minim bala te sen bimar. Te musi na idi cel medisdom. Maxim juni ete multi suki na ore musika ji na danse. Maxim lao te no abil na danse. Te suki na oko Fransesali filme. Maxim humorpul te sen alimyen in neo eskol.

Lesson Activity

Create your own sentences using the example above, and examples from previous lessons, as sentence patterns. Tell a story.

Lesson 15

Word List

- am - imperative particle
- okur - happen, occur
- plasi - put, place
- side - sit, be sitting
- porta - carry, take
- tem - about (regarding)
- fronta - forehead
 - fe fronta de - in front of
- ruke - back
 - fe ruke de - behind (in back of)
- kapi - head
 - fe kapi de - on top of
- peda - foot
 - fe peda de - at the bottom of
- comen - side
 - fe comen de - beside, next to
- sofa - sofa
- dixan - floor

Notes

Phrasal Prepositions

The word fe is used with a variety of phrasal prepositions such as the following.

- fe fronta de - in front of
- fe comen de - at the side of, beside, next to
- fe peda de - at the bottom of

Other prepositions, such as cel and of may likewise be used at the beginning of phrasal prepositions.

- of kapi de - from the top of
- cel ruke de - to the back of

Commands

The verb particle am is used to express commands. It is placed at the beginning of a verb phrase, just as other verb particles are (le, xa, na).

The pronouns yu and uyu are typically omitted for second-person commands.

Am no veloci pala. Am hanman pala.

Don't speak fast. Speak slow.

(Uyu) am lala ton mi.

(You all), sing with me.

With the first-person plural (imi) commands, imi must always be used.

Imi am oko filme.

Let's watch a movie.

Example Sentences

Am plasi kursi fe ruke de sofa.

Put the chair behind the sofa.

Am cudu kitabu of (kapi de) mesa.

Take the book off/from (the top of) the table.

Imi pala tem Turki.

We are talking about Turkey.

Reading and Listening Practice

Am plasi fenjan fe cay per mesa. Am no cudu glasu fe bira of mesa. Am plasi meli kamisa per bistar. Am no plasi day kursi in banyokamer. Am porta neo bistar cel ruke de somnokamer. Am cudu lama sofa of hotel. Am no plasi kitabu per dixan.

Lesson Activity

Create your own sentences using the examples above, and examples from previous lessons, as sentence patterns. Tell a story.

Lesson 16

Word List

- eger - if
- ger - would
- blue - blue
- bruno - brown
- jalo - yellow
- hwese - gray
- kijawi - green
- orange - orange
- purpuro - purple
- roso - red
- sefide - white
- syah - black
- mobil - car
- bus - bus
- navi - ship
- tren - train
- turi - trip; travel (as a tourist)
- dao - path, way; travel (go from place to place)
- visita - visit
- xaher - city, town
- -ya - (suffix) abstract nouns

Notes

Conditional Mood

The conditional mood is expressed using the verb particle ger (would). The subordinate clause (if...) uses the dictionary form of the verb.

Mi ger turi in Turki eger mi pala Turkisa.

I would travel in/to Turkey if I spoke Turkish.

Suffix -ya

The suffix -ya is used to turn adjectives, nouns and prepositions into a variety of different abstract nouns. Click here for a full description.

Example Sentences

Kam yu ger kari purpuro mobil?

Would you buy a purple car?

Mi xa dao cel Franse yon tren.

I will travel to France by train.

Reading and Listening Practice

Mi vole na turi in Nipon. Mi xa dao cel denloka yon day, sefide navi. Mi xa visita multi meli xaher. Mi no pala Niponsa. Mi haja na xwexi Niponsa cel na abil na pala ton moyte.

Lesson Activity

Create your own sentences using the examples above, and examples from previous lessons, as sentence patterns. Tell a story.

Lesson 17

Word List

- hay - there is/are
- barix - rain
- taluji - snow
- intre - between, among
- fol - along, according to
- wey - around
- supra - above, over
- infra - below
- tras - across
- ner - nearby
 - ner fe - near, close to
- teli - far, remote
 - teli fe - far from
- daymo - greatly, very
- lilmo - a little bit (adverb of degree)

Notes

hay

The word hay expresses there is/are, but is also used in reference to the environment where English uses it's.

To barix. or Hay barix.

It's raining. (There's rain.)

To taluji. or Hay taluji.

It's snowing. (There's snow.)

To sen termopul. or Hay termo.

It's warm. (There's heat/warmth.)

To sen bardipul. or Hay bardi.
It's cold. (There's cold.)

Compound Words with Adjectives as Quasi-prefixes

Many adjectives may be used as quasi-prefixes to form compounds. Words with adjective quasi-prefixes take on a more specific meaning than a noun modified with the given adjective would have.

For example, the adjective day (big, large) can be used as an augmentative quasi-prefix and is used for deriving words that denote an increase in size, age, degree, quantity or loudness as compared with the root.

Fill in the blanks below:

awesome, great, excellent:

huge:

tiny:

yell:

grandmother:

Likewise, the word lil (little, small) can be used to derive words that denote a reduction in size, degree, quantity or loudness as compared with the root.

Fill in the blanks below:

whisper:

nap:

drizzle:

grandchild:

Adverbs of Degree

The word daymo is an adverb of degree meaning greatly or very.

- daymo hazuni - very sad

The word lilmo, the opposite of daymo, is an adverb of degree meaning a little and is used to modify adjectives or other adverbs.

- lilmo hazuni - a little sad

In previous lessons we have seen other words that add -mo. As we can see, adj/adv words (max, min, kufi, day, lil) that modify other adj/adv words must add -mo: maxmo, minmo, kufimo, daymo, lilmo.

Example Sentences

Hay termo fe exya.

It's warm outside.

Hay multi drevo fol nahir.

There are many trees along the river.

Reading and Listening Practice

Misu xaher sen daymo kijawi. Hay multi drevo per jabal. Hay multi barix mas xosu taluji. Ner fe gao jabal hay nahir. Multi insan suyon in den bardipul nahir. Mi no abil na bon suyon. Mi suki na pawbu per jabal eger no hay barix.

Lesson Activity

Create your own sentences using the examples above, and examples from previous lessons, as sentence patterns. Tell a story.

Lesson 18

Word List

- ban - some, certain
 - bante - somebody
 - banto - something
 - bankwanti - some (quantity of)
 - bannumer - several, a few, some
- fe - at, in, on (with phrases denoting time)
- mara - time (occasion)
 - (fe) ban mara - once (on a certain occasion), once upon a time
 - (fe) duli mara - sometimes, at times, on occasion
- mesaje - message
- neto - net, web
- posta - mail
 - netoposta - email
- adresu - address
 - netoadresu - email address
- eskri - write
- gibe - give
- tas - to, for (recipient marker)
- irsal - send
- maydo - sell
- jixi - know (information)
- kone - know (be acquainted/familiar with)
- fikir - thought; think
- ki - that (conjunction)
- kal - empty; -less

Notes

Recipient Marker tas

The recipient (commonly known as the indirect object) is marked with the preposition tas (to, for). It is always obligatory, meaning that it should never be omitted. The recipient may come right after the direct object or between the verb and the direct object.

Am gibe tas mi kamisa.

Give me the shirt.

Am gibe kursi tas mi.

Give the chair to me.

ki

The word ki is a conjunction meaning that, not to be confused with the determiner den (that, as opposed to this). It always introduces a clause (a sentence within a sentence).

Mi fikir ki yusu netoposta sen daymo lungu.

I think (that) your email is very long.

In the sentence above, your email is very long is a clause, or a complete sentence within the larger sentence. Notice that in English the word that is optional. In Globasa, on the other hand, ki is obligatory, never optional.

Compound Words with kal

The word kal (empty) is the opposite of pul. Like pul, it may be used as a suffix meaning without sufficient and is often translated as -less in English.

Fill in the blanks below:

hungry (meal-empty/-less):

thirsty (water-empty/-less):

poor (money-less):

Phrases Denoting Time

The word fe is also used with expressions of time but is usually optional in these cases, such as in (fe) ban mara or (fe) duli mara. In the phrase duli mara, the word duli is a derived word using the prefix du-. In Lesson 19, you will learn another way to use duli.

Example Sentences

Nini le gibe sesu roti tas yamkal manixu.

The child gave their bread to the hungry man.

Mi fikir ki misu myaw sen suikal.

I think (that) my cat is thirsty.

Reading and Listening Practice

Mi ogar in Usa ji misu bete ogar in Espani. Mi irsal mesaje tas te duli mara. Te eskri tas mi lungu netoposta. Te loga ki Espani sen daymo meli. Te loga, "Kam yu vole na turi hinloka?" Mi fikir ki mi xa dao cel Espani cel na visita misu bete.

Lesson Activity

Create your own sentences using the examples above, and examples from previous lessons, as sentence patterns. Tell a story.

Lesson 19

Word List

- watu - time
 - kewatu - when
 - moywatu - always
 - nilwatu - never
- haji - still
 - no haji - no longer, not anymore
- uje - already
 - no uje - not yet
- dur - during
 - durki - while (+ clause)
 - dur na - while (+ verb phrase)
- pimpan - often, frequent(ly)
- nadir - seldom, rare(ly)
- din - day
 - nundin - today
 - jaledin - yesterday
 - jaxadin - tomorrow
 - sabedin - week
- lefe - before, ago
- xafe - after, in (after some time)
- soba - morning
- axam - evening
- noce - night
- total - entire, whole
- nyan - year

Notes

nun

The verb particle nun is used to express the present moment. It is typically omitted unless one wishes to emphasize that the activity is currently taking place.

Past, Present and Future

The verb tense particles (nun, le, xa) may be turned into abstract nouns by adding -ya, which may be used in prepositional phrases with fe. Note that fe is obligatory in these phrases.

- fe nunya - in the present, now
- fe leya - in the past, previously
- fe xaya - in the future, later

Now and Then

Although fe nunya is the most common way to express now, hinwatu is also used. The expression hinwatu, however, contrasts with denwatu (then, at that time).

Compound Words with nun, le and xa

The verb particles nun, le and xa are used as quasi-prefixes in a specific and limited number of words, primarily those that appear in this lesson's word list.

The prefix ja-

The prefix ja- means immediately adjacent. As you can see in this lesson, ja- is used in the words jaledin (yesterday) and jaxadin (tomorrow).

lefe and xafe

The prepositions lefe (before) and xafe (after) are composed of the verb tense prefixes le and xa plus the multi-purpose preposition fe. They can also be used to express ago and in (after some time).

Misu gami le irsal tas yu netoposta lefe tiga din.
My spouse sent you an email three days ago.

Yu abil na xwexi Globasa xafe un nyan.
You can learn Globasa in one year.

Days of the Week

The days of the week are expressed as derived words using the international astronomical method by attaching din (day) as a quasi-suffix.

Monday - Lunadin (Luna - Earth's moon)

Tuesday - Marihidin (Marihi - Mars)

Wednesday - Bududin (Budu - Mercury)

Thursday - Muxtaridin (Muxtari - Jupiter)

Friday - Zuhuradin (Zuhura - Venus)

Saturday - Xanidin (Xani - Saturn)

Sunday - Soladin (Sola - Earth's sun)

To express a phrase like on Mondays, the word duli, seen in Lesson 18, is used:
(fe) duli Lunadin, (fe) duli Marihidin, etc.

Noun-Noun Compounds

As we have seen with words such as dom, kamer, dukan and din, noun-noun compounds can be freely formed in Globasa using any noun.

Fill in the blanks below:

breakfast (morning meal):

dinner (evening meal):

Example Sentences

Yu le turi in Barati kewatu?
When did you travel in India?

Mi xa koki axamyam durki yu idi cel dukan.
I will cook dinner while you go to the store.

Reading and Listening Practice

Mi nadir koki, mas mi xa koki axamyam jaxadin. Nundin, mi musu na idi cel bazar. Imi haja risi, mahi ji vino. Misu gami loga ki misu yam sen daymo bon, mas mi fikir ki te koki maxmo bon kom mi. Durki mi koki, misu gami xa oko filme.

Lesson Activity

Create your own sentences using the examples above, and examples from previous lessons, as sentence patterns. Tell a story.

Lesson 20

Word List

- kos - due to, because of, for
 - koski - because
- seba - reason
 - keseba - why, for what reason
- denmo... kom... - as... as...
- buka - open
- klosi - close
- ewreka - find, discover
- xoru - begin, start
- fini - finish, end
- swal - ask, question
- jawabu - answer
- baytu - house
- dwer - door
- janela - window
- satu - hour, time
- alo - other, different
- sama - same

Notes

denmo... kom...

Nouns with equal features are compared using denmo... kom...

Hin filme sen denmo lungu kom den filme.

This movie is as long as that movie.

sama and alo

The words sama (same) and alo (different/other) are similar to ke, hin, den, ban, moy and nil in that they are typically attach (e)te/(o)to. This means that sama and alo function as both adjectives and determiners.

- samate - the same person samato - the same thing
- alote - somebody else (a different person)
aloto - something else (a different thing)

With all other adjectives, (e)te/(o)to stand as separate words:

bon te, bur te ji colo te the good (one), the bad (one) and the ugly (one)

Telling time

To tell time, Globasa uses the word satu (hour) rather than watu (time) along with cardinal numbers.

To sen ke satu?

What time is it?

To sen satu sabe fe soba.

It is (hour) seven in the morning.

(satu) oco, duades lima

8:25

Example Sentences

Yu le klosi janela keseba?

Why did you close the window?

Mi le klosi janela koski hay bardi fe exya.

I closed the window because it's cold outside.

Reading and Listening Practice

Medisyen ogar in day baytu. Te hare bannumer hewan: dua bwaw, tiga myaw, ji un piu. Un bwaw somno multi. Alo bwaw yuxi multi ton moy myaw. Un myaw sen daymo humorpul. Te abil na buka ji kloxi dwer. Piu sen doste de den myaw. Nil myaw vole na yam piu. Ban din, myaw le buka dwer ji piu le fley cel ex baytu. Bwaw ji medisyen le ewreka te in parke, ji nundin, piu sen in baytu ji moyte sen hox.

Lesson Activity

Create your own sentences using the examples above, and examples from previous lessons, as sentence patterns. Tell a story.